

Rabbit Ear Tagging Hints

An alternative method for tagging rabbits in the ear, or any large eared animal, is accomplished by first folding the ear in half. Next, locate the piercing point of the tag, half of the tag's length, down on the folded ear, allowing the other half of the tag length to remain clear. Now pierce through both halves of the ear with a single squeeze of the applicator. This will result in two incisions in the ear. Simply pull the ear back up and the tag will now be located securely in the center of the ear with the number facing out at all times.